Expectations for Good Post-Event Business

„For us there was no question that if DeburringEXPO would be staged as an on-site event, we would exhibit and present ourselves as a solutions provider for tasks in the field of deburring and precision finishing. And it was the right decision, because we were able to talk to existing customers about upcoming projects and their plans, and generate interesting new leads. We're very satisfied with the way things went at the event.”

Well-Prepared Visitors with Concrete Tasks

“It was definitely the right decision to participate at Deburring EXPO 2021. Before the event opened, we didn't expect so many well-prepared, thoroughly informed and highly focused expert visitors. Both existing customers with new projects and potential new customers with running projects took advantage of the opportunity to engage in intensive discussions at the trade fair, and to find solutions. For KADIA it was also very important to assess the market and the sectors we've been getting involved in recently, which are far removed from routine daily business. Customers and other interested parties provided us with confirmation in this regard at the event, and we've been able to define additional goals.”
